RAINBOW IN A CLEAR SKY.

Richmond, Va., Citizens Awed by Extraordinary Phenomenon.

Extraordinary Phenomenon.

REPUBLIC SPECIAL.

Richmond, Va., Dec. 6.—The citizens of Richmond viewed with admiration and awa an extraordinary phenomenon this morning, peculiarly and strikingly beautiful.

The morning was cold and clear, and the vault of heaven brightly blue, with not a fleck of cloud, yet a brilliant rainbow hung directly overhead, perfect in outline and color, and 100 remained for nearly two hours. Scientists here say the occurrence is a very rare one for this latitude, and takes place only in cold weather. The phenomenon to-day, according to authority, was caused by fine ice particles in the atmosphere, and belonged to that class of solar hales with its convex side to the sun.

The streets were almost blocked for a fire the proposed to the Missouri Pacific that they would close if the order could be made general.

"In the fall any time between the 1st of October and severe frost, take cuttings of the well-ripened wood from four to six inches in length, prune off the leaves and insert about three inches into well-workel, rich, garden soil. A little sand at the bottom of each slip is desirable. Plant where it is intended the bush shall stand. Press the soil firmly around each cutting and invert over it a glass fruit jar-one quart of half-gallon size. Draw enough soil about the jar to hold it firmly in place. If the weather be dry water thoroughly at the time of planting and do not disturb the cuttings again until spring. vert over it a glass fruit jar-one quart or half-gallon size. Deep plowing is all right if done in the sprowing as the growing crop will admit. Use small shovels and cultivate as hitle as pane of glass over the top may be substituted for the fruit jar. A mulch of stable is manure around the jars after winter sets in, is beneficial. In the spring, after growth is well advanced, the glass covers may be deep plowing a success; if ground is plowed deep in spring the crop is backward, and is never a good yield, and never ripens even.

All amateur floriets have tried with little or no success to increase the number of their cholcer varieties of roses by slips or cuttings. When these are set in a box of sand, the top of which is covered with glass and kept in a fairly warm room nearly all will keep fresh for weeks and many will form at the lower end the ridge or "cullus" from which the new roots are expected to start. But, alas! how very seldom, even with the most careful attention, do these roots ever appear. Now we find in a contribution to a floral magazine the following method which is said to be almost invariably successful.

If it is absolutely necessary to the horse shod with calks have them made as small and as short as possible so that the frog may come to the ground.

After the season's work is finished it will be found a good plan to select out a team to do the necessary work during the winter. Keep them well shot and allow the rest of the horses to run barefoot.

I always thought deep plowing was the thing for a dry season until this year, but it has been demonstrated right at home this year that deep plowing is no better in a dry season than in an ordinary one. Different localities might make some difference, but it is doubtful in my mind if it does Can't cure an incurable disease. Nor can Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. But it has cured a great many most desperate cases, chronic cases, such cases as no other medicine in the world touches.

The next time you talk with your doctor ask him if knows of any other cough medicine that so quickly cures colds and coughs, even the hardest kind of lung troubles. He will give you an honest answer. Abide by it.

"I was given up to ele with quick consumption. I rapidly lost in weight from 135 to 98 pounds. I had repeated hemorrhages, and at last went to bed never expecting to get up. I then tried Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, and in nine months I had regained my old weight and was a well man again."
